

On Friday March 20, 2010, Flex HR was a title sponsor of the North Fulton Business Expo held in Alpharetta, GA. Jim Cichanski was present the night before at the Expo Kickoff party and was asked to say a few words ... "This economy is rough but I see very good signs that it is improving, ... Slowly (he added), it looks like we are going to have a good day tomorrow with a record number of participants. Well over 1,400 have signed up. We will also have some folks looking for jobs here tomorrow so let's get them back to work and help them out. I see companies starting to hire again and that is a good thing."

Flex HR was recognized upon kicking off the Business Expo Friday morning at the Expo breakfast and ribbon cutting ceremony in which Jim Cichanski, the CEO of Flex HR participated. Phil Davis, Senior Vice President for Flex HR stated ... "we were very happy to see over one thousand companies come by and say hello to us at our booth. We meet a lot of new friends and got to say hello to current clients, partners and old friends. It was a busy day." The event closed with the final two hours being a social networking event. Flex HR would like to thank the participants as well as the North Fulton Business Expo for a successful day!
